CHI and Dignity Health Agree to Create New Organization

A message from Kevin Lofton, CEO, Catholic Health Initiatives: Many of you have shared with us in recent months how passionate you are about our mission. Your words have inspired me as we've explored with Dignity Health what we might accomplish if we bring together your passion with our two ministries.

I am pleased to share with you that Catholic Health Initiatives and Dignity Health have signed a definitive agreement to create a new, nonprofit Catholic health system focused on creating healthier communities.

Our two organizations have much in common. We share a commitment to caring for the whole person, and all people, with compassion – especially people who are poor and vulnerable. By combining our complementary strengths – including our remarkably similar values and culture – we will achieve benefits of scale and reinvest in critical areas to advance quality of care and access across our 28-state ministry.

We will bring together the rich heritage of our collective 18 founding congregations to continue our healing ministry. The centuries-old legacy of the women religious inspires us as we form a new system to care for our people and communities. Together, we will continue their commitment to person-centered, holistic care for all people...
